Numb. 3718.

The Daily Courant.

Saturday, September 12. 1713.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Sept. 14. &c.

Paris, September 8.

THE Letters from Spain, and particularly those from Girone of the 23d of August, tell us, that the Number of the Catalonian Rebels diminished daily, those of the small defenceless Towns coming in to submit themselves, other Places being taken Possession of, and others exemplarily punished; in particular that of Manta, where the Magistrates in their Habits of State or Ceremony were hung up at their own Doors, and the rest of the Inhabitants, as well Clergy as Laity, without any Regard to Sex or Age, put to the Sword. The Catalonians retaliate this Usage on their Enemies who fall into their Hands. Those of Barcelona seem to be the more animated by the rigorous Treatment of their Compatriots. We talk of destroying and ruining that City in such Manner, that Posterity shall not be able to find where it stood; for say People here, the Catalonians, and especially those of that Capital, are so stubborn and wilfull, that no Correction can mend them; but they have often been troublesom and brought great Prejudice to the French as well as Spaniards, and in short Catalonia is a kind of Barrier to prevent the Coalition of the two Monarchies. Now to the End some Potentates who perhaps might interpose their good Offices, and endeavour to procure some Favour to the Catalonians, may not have time for it, the Preparations for the Siege of Barcelona are hastened as much as possible both in Spain and in this Kingdom, all our Sea Officers being ordered to repair without Delay to Marseilles and Toulon, where a considerable Squadron of Frigates and Gallies is almost ready to put to Sea. Some say the King of Spain will assist in Person at the said Siege, but others doubt it. The Marshal de Thesse who formerly besieged Barcelona in vain, and who is now again to command our Troops which are to serve there, makes sure Account of Success. 'Tis talked here, that the Duke of Savoy may probably soon disturb the Emperour in Italy, and that among other Pretexts one may be the Sale of the Marquisate and Port of Final to the Genoueſe, preferably to his Royal Highness, who has so much Need of a Communication with the Kingdom of Sicily. We also talk here of divers Projects for the Advantage of the Elector of Bavaria and the Electoral Prince his Son; among others, that Means will be used to get one of them made Governour of the Austrian Netherlands; as also, that a Minister will be sent to Switzerland, to propose to Count Trautmansdorf the Emperour's Minister there, the treating of a Marriage between the said Electoral Prince and one of the Archdutchesses of Austria. Cardinal Gualteri (the nominal Protector of Britain) gives great Umbrage to all those who wish well to the Liberties of the Gallican Church: His Eminency is extremely in the King's Favour, and the Jesuites idolize him. The Council for Affairs of Religion (commonly called the Council of Conscience) begins to act with new Zeal; M. d' Argenson Lieutenant de Police is exclude from it, and no civil Magistrate will for the future be admitted into it. A Parish Priest of this City, who had relaxed a little of the Ceremonies of the Church at marrying two New Converts, is banished; and a strict Eye is had to the Clergy that they do not shew any Indulgence to the New Converts; likewise an Order has been issued within these few Days, to all the Commissaries of Quarters, to go each about his Ward or District, and take a List of the Names, with the Dwellings, and Trades, &c. of all the New Converts.

From the Paris Letter, dated Sept. 15.

Paris, Sept. 15. Magnificent Liveries are making at Lyons for the Duke of Savoy, who is preparing to go about the End of this Month to take Possession of the Kingdom of Sicily, where the People have at length consented to acknowledged him for their Soveraign, upon the Assurance he has given them that he will preserve all their Privileges, and even augment them, and ease them of several Impositi.
